Sarah Martin | creative front-end developer

239.989.5856 | peppybojagger@gmail.com | sarahmdev.com *

Experience

Front-end Developer | Redfire Creative
October 2016 - present

- Develop websites and web content for clients while staying up to date with current trends and industry standards

Front-end Developer | Grafx Design of Tampa
January 2016 - July 2016 (contract)

- Designed / developed websites and web content for clients while staying up to date with current trends
- Managed all maintenance accounts by ensuring WP core, themes, & plugins were up-to-date, as well as performing monthly security checks and database/ site backups

Instructional Developer | USF FCU
December 2013 - August 2015

- Designed /developed courses and content for the training of current employees and new hires using Articulate Storyline & an in-house LMS system
- Managed the company's intranet by organizing content, creating new web pages, and updating the Knowledge Base with instructional materials.
- Created graphics and print materials as needed

Freelance Designer & Developer
2012 - present

- Develop websites and web content for clients while staying up to date with current trends and industry standards

Education

University of South Florida | 2008 - 2012
Bachelor of Arts Degree in Technical Communications and New Media

* Please visit my online portfolio to see my technical qualifications and work